

Elizabeth Mele, a 10-year-old fourth grader at Pearl Buck Elementary School in Levittown, PA wants to be a Veterinarian when she grows up. Wanting to get involved and help out, Elizabeth decided to coordinate a blanket and towel drive for hospitalized pets at VSEC. She worked with Ms. Oswald, a kindergarten teacher at her school, to develop a service project with the kindergarten students. They created signs publicizing the event and the class who brought in the most donations received cupcakes and an extra recess. VSEC is immensely grateful to Elizabeth and her fellow students for their generous donation. Having new blankets and towels is a great comfort for our sick patients.
